

Guided Reading

Scholastic Guided Reading Program	Fountas and Pinnell System sets of high-quality leveled readers. These sets of books help instruct students in becoming independent readers. Teachers can conduct reading assessments through small reading groups. This facilitates differentiating instruction, providing students with texts that are at their reading level. Each reading level consists of 5-10 copies of several different books.
Leveled Readers	A book collection organized by level of difficulty. There are easy books for emergent readers and more complex books for advanced readers. Leveled readers can be used both for reading assessment and differentiating instruction. These books supports student progress in their reading ability.
Big Books	CARE offers a variety of Big Books of many popular children’s stories and award winners. These Big Books are great resources for guiding reading, modeling reading strategies, read- along and story time. Some of the Big Books support direct instruction of informational themes complemented with colorful illustrations. Some informational books address a variety of subject matter themes in math, language arts, multicultural education, science and social studies. Some of our Big Books include If You Take a Mouse to School , Chrysanthemum , Chicka Chicka Boom Boom , Walking Through The Jungle , and Sandwiches , Sandwiches , among others.
